Important Information about Applying for Early Release of Super on Compassionate Grounds

In certain circumstances, the ATO may instruct the Trustee to release a portion of the money held in your super account, also known as your 'superannuation benefit', on compassionate grounds to help you meet unpaid expenses.

APPLICATIONS MUST BE MADE TO THE ATO

An application for early release of some of your superannuation benefit on compassionate grounds must be made to the Australian Taxation Office (ATO).

ARE YOU ELIGIBLE?

Before you make an application to the ATO, the first thing to do is check if you're eligible. The ATO will only approve a release of your super on compassionate grounds if you meet all the conditions listed below.

1. You need money to pay for one of the following:

- Medical treatment and medical transport for you or your dependant
- Making a payment on a home loan or council rates so you don't lose your home
- Modifying your home or vehicle or buying disability aids to cater for the severe disability of you or your dependant
- Palliative care for you or your dependant
- Expenses associated with the death, funeral or burial of your dependant

Specific eligibility criteria apply for each of the listed compassionate grounds. For details, please visit the ATO website. More information on who is considered a dependant is available via the ATO website.

2. You have not yet paid the expense. The ATO only approves compassionate release of super to help you with unpaid expenses. If you have already paid the expense, for example by using a loan, a credit card or money borrowed from family or friends, you do not meet the eligibility requirements.

3. You can't afford to pay part or all of the expenses without accessing your super. That is, you can't pay the expense by:

- Getting a loan
- Using your savings
- Selling shares, investments or assets

4. You are a citizen or permanent resident of Australia or New Zealand.

5. You are able to provide all required supporting evidence and invoices/quotes.

If you answered yes to all five conditions listed above, you are eligible to apply. The ATO will only approve a compassionate grounds release payment of the amount required to cover the unpaid expense.

You must ensure that there is sufficient balance in your account to make the release. If you hold insurance cover through your Verve Super account, you must retain a sufficient balance in your account to continue to pay your monthly insurance premium. If you withdraw your entire account balance, your insurance cover will cease and your account will be closed.

WHAT IF YOU'RE NOT ELIGIBLE?

If you did not answer yes to all five conditions listed above, you're not eligible to apply for early release of super on compassionate grounds.

You may, however, be eligible to apply to the Trustee for early release of a portion of your superannuation benefit on financial hardship grounds if:

- You've been receiving an Australian Commonwealth Income Support Payment for at least the past 26 weeks;
- You're unable to meet reasonable and immediate family living expenses; and
- You have not received a payment for a severe financial hardship claim from any super fund in the previous 12 months.

For more information on early release on financial hardship grounds, please contact us at hello@vervesuper.com.au or call us on 1300 799 482.

MAKING AN APPLICATION

You must submit your application online via your myGov account linked to ATO online services. Specific supporting documents relevant to the expense you need to pay for are required to be submitted along with your application.

The ATO will assess your eligibility for a compassionate release of super. If your application is approved, the ATO will send you an SMS and a letter to your myGov inbox. The ATO will also notify us.

It's then up to you to complete this form to request a release of your superannuation benefit. You'll need to provide us with a copy of the approval letter from the ATO. The approval letter can only be used to release one lump sum payment.

TAXATION

How any compassionate grounds payment that may be paid will be taxed depends on your age and the components of your super. If you are under age 60, we may be required to deduct tax on the taxable component of the payment. Consult your accountant and/or financial planner for details on the tax treatment for your personal circumstances.
